“I found the Prestel & Partner Family Office Forum to provide a unique experience where I could meet my industry peers while also learning about the adjacent challenges family offices face beyond the investment mandate. The structure of their events allows for genuine interactions in what is typically a siloed and silent industry, and I expect that these interactions will serve as the foundation for blossoming relationships in the coming years. Everything from the accommodation, the itinerary, and most importantly, the people was of the highest quality.”
